Is your internal "radio" fine tuned or is there static?

We all know when we feel "off" from being too tired, overwhelmed by stressful events, or other health issues. Sometimes there is a traumatic physical or emotional event, but often stresses pile on until our systems start to break down. Symptoms are our body's way of telling us something's wrong. We're over threshold and our nervous and energetic systems are out of balance, and we've got "static!" Chiropractic and Acupuncture can help rebalance your nerve and energy systems. Acupuncture Meridian function can be compared to radio waves: Radio waves are not seen by our human eyes, but we all understand they exist. If a city has 12 radio stations, much like our 12 primary meridians, we know each specific station is broadcast at its own individual frequency. In other words, if a station is operating at 89.7 on the dial, it comes in loud and clear; however, if it comes in at 89.6 or 89.8, the radio broadcast contains static. There is nothing wrong with the radio - the fine tuning is out of adjustment. Same for the Acupuncture Meridians. A simple adjustment to the radio will bring it into full clarity and normalcy. Fine tuning of you with Acupuncture and/or Chiropractic can bring you into balance, too.

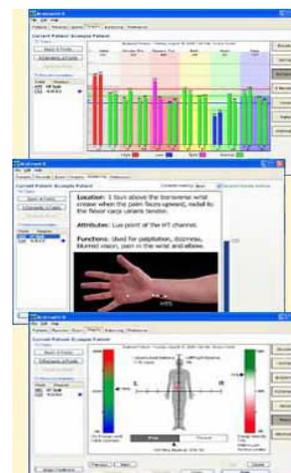

Ancient Wisdom and Modern Technology with the AcuGraph.

Science today is recognizing the electromagnetic potential of the body, which is what the 5,000 to 7,000 year old meridian system of Acupuncture is based on. Today's electrical muscle exams (EMGs), magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) and other tests are based on the body's basic biomagnetic system. Combining ancient principles with a patient's specific condition, Dr. Levitt, certified in Acupuncture since 1982, has seen her acupuncture treatments allow the body to regain and maintain its harmony and balance. This means patients can feel great again. Dr. Levitt accepts appointments to help you to "see the chi" using the the AcuGraph®4 meridian diagnosis system for additional diagnosis. The AcuGraph instantly provides a complete baseline, graphical analysis, interpretation and progress evaluations of your meridian energetics in a format that you can understand. The body's electromagnetic resistance at specific acupoints is measured painlessly, quickly, and accurately, If the meridian needs fine tuning because it is outside the boundaries of normal, this is displayed on graphs and pictures on our computer screen. It is safe, quick, understandable and available in our office. Modern technology helps you receive precise recommendations for optimum outcomes.

Needle and Non-Needle Treatments Patients Love.

Patients tell us they love the Chiropractic and the Acupuncture care we provide. Acupuncture may be part of your Chiropractic care program or separate from it. Dr. Levitt treats the acupuncture meridians, ear points and extra energy points using either sterile needle technique or non-needle technique with QiLaser or StimPlus Microcurrent Therapy. The QiLaser, a 635 nm, 5 mW light energy output therapy is painless. With StimPlus Pro

Microcurrent™ most people report either no sensation or a small, comfortable vibrating sensation, like a tiny massage. There is virtually no discomfort and each point takes just a few seconds to stimulate using the laser or microcurrent. Non-needle techniques can work just as well and takes less time. Discomfort with sterile Acupuncture needles is rare because of the extreme thinness of the acupuncture needles. Needle treatment time can be a little as 15 and as long as 40 minutes, although it is usually around 20 minutes. After treatment, most patients report a feeling of a deep sense of relaxation and well-being.
